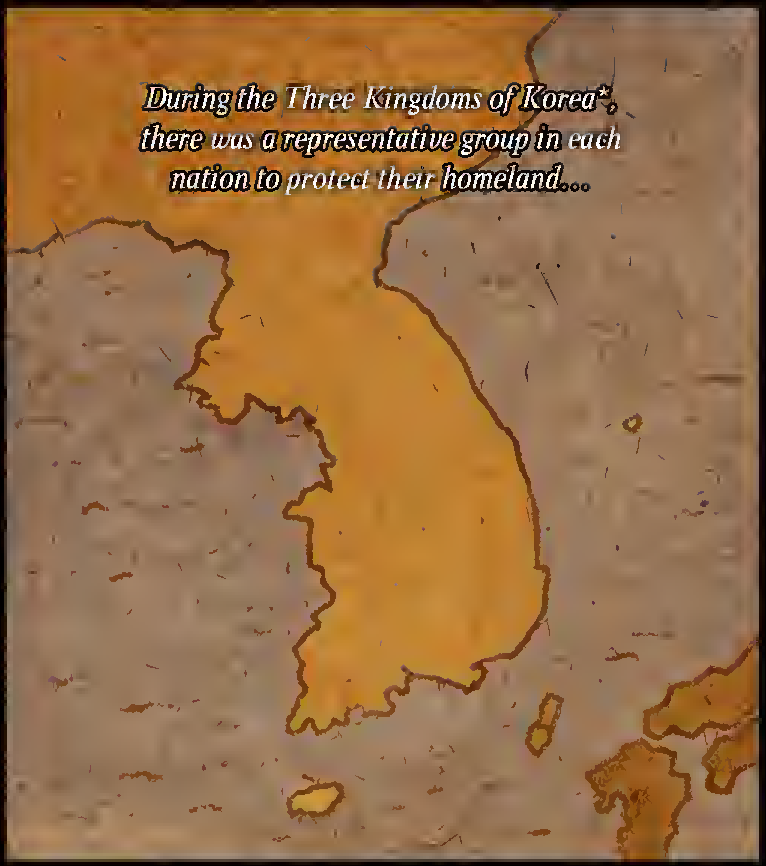
WHAT WILL I DO?

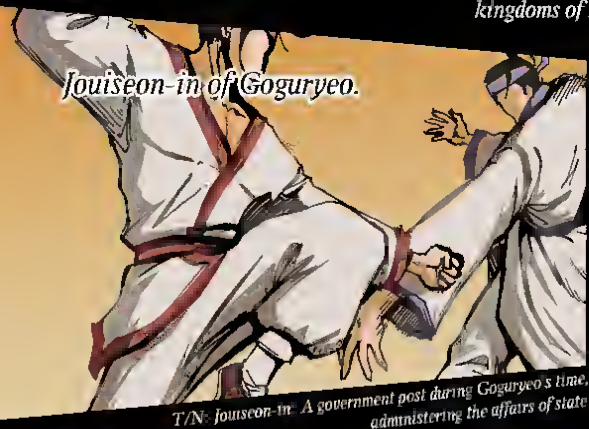
What I've always been doing...
hive my life...

in the shadows...

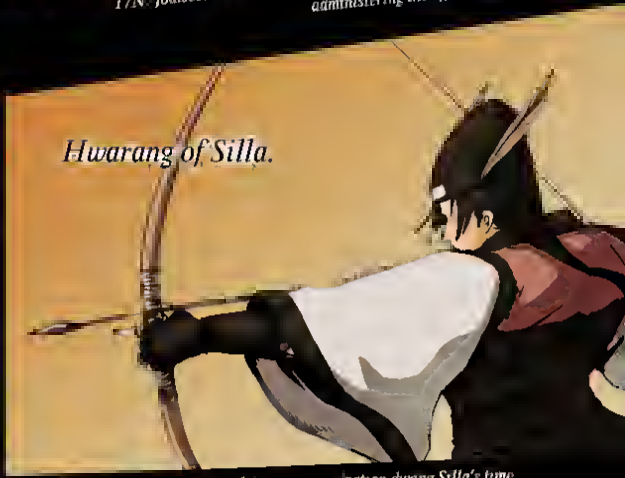


*T/N: 37B.C.–A.D.668

T/N: Goguryeo, Baekje and Silla are the three ancient kingdoms of Korea.



T/N: Jouseon-in: A government post during Goguryeo's time, administering the affairs of state



T/N: Hwarang: Youth's private cultivation organization during Silla's time Compromised of urbane individuals with pedigree and erudition, whose ideology were training of mind and body and pioneering of society.

T/N: Saulabi: A warrior

The three nations' war for the unification of the three kingdoms reached its extreme

And they were always in the front line.

However, behind those people, were also the ones who operated alongside darkness.

Their faces…

…or names aren't known.

But there was one man from Baekje, known as the "Black Wolf"...

...whose legend lived on, even after Baekje had fallen.

Korean Honorifics Lesson!

Nim - A formal way of addressing someone typically older and/or more respected than you

Ssi - A formal way of addressing someone you do not know or are unfamiliar with

Nuna - A friendly way of addressing an older woman near your age if you're a guy

Hyung - A friendly way of addressing an older man near your age if you're a guy

Unni - A friendly way of addressing an older woman near your age if you're a girl

Oppa - A friendly way of addressing an older man near your age if you're a girl
Oppa is also used (though not synonymously) by girls addressing their boyfriends

Ajumma - Older woman typically aged between mid/late 30's – early 50s. Calling someone younger than mid 30's this is rather offensive

Ajussi - Older man typically aged between mid/late 30's – early 50s. Korean men, especially those in their 30s, prefer to be called hyung/oppa by those younger than him rather than Ajusshi

Sunbae - Is used to address senior colleagues or mentor figures, e.g. students referring to or addressing more senior students in schools

Hubae - Is used to refer to juniors. However, the term is not normally addressed to them directly, and is mainly used in the third person.
This is nearly identical in Japanese with Senpai/Kohai honorifics

Naeuri - Was used by commoners in the Joseon Dynasty to refer to people of higher status but below "His Excellency"

Seonsaeng – Commonly translated as 'teacher", has much more formality and is used to show respect to the addressee. It is related to the Japanese honorific, "sensei" and shares the same pair of Chinese characters, representing 'mister' or 'one born earlier' (literal)

It's about time you learn them!
